FAIR CREDIT REPORTING ACT DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

As an employer doing business in a highly regulated industry, Serenity Recovery Centers, Inc., ("the Center") occasionally may conduct security and background checks on its employees and potential employees for security, regulatory, or insurance reasons. The Center, when considering your application for employment, when making a decision whether to offer you employment, when deciding whether to continue your employment (if you are hired), and when making other employment related decisions directly affecting you, may wish to obtain and use a "consumer report" from a "consumer reporting agency." These terms are defined in the Fair Credit Reporting Act ("FCRA"), which applies to you. As an applicant for employment or employee of the Center, you are a "consumer" with rights under the FCRA.

A "consumer reporting agency" is a person or business that, for monetary fees, dues, or on a cooperative non-profit basis, regularly assembles or evaluates consumer credit information or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing "consumer reports" to others, such as the Center.

A "consumer report" is any written, oral or other communication of any information by a "consumer reporting agency" bearing on a consumer's credit worthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics or mode of living which is used or collected for the purpose of serving as a factor in establishing the consumer's eligibility for employment purposes.

An "investigative consumer report" is a "consumer report" or portion of a "consumer report" in which information on your character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living is obtained through personal interviews. If the Company obtains an "investigative consumer report" about you, you will receive a written disclosure that such report has been requested within 3 days after the request. You may request from the Company within a reasonable time a complete and accurate disclosure of the nature and scope of the investigation. You are also entitled to a written summary of your rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act as prepared by the Federal Trade Commission.

If the Company obtains a "consumer report" or "investigative consumer report" about you, and if the Company considers any information in the "consumer report" or "investigative consumer report" when making an employment-related decision that directly and adversely affects you, you will be provided with a copy of the "consumer report" before the decision is finalized. You also may contact the Federal Trade Commission about your rights under the FCRA as a "consumer" with regard to "consumer reports" and "consumer reporting agencies."

The Company will not use any information contained in a "consumer report" or an "investigative consumer report" in violation of any state or federal equal employment opportunity law.
